While setting your financial goals this year please keep the New Mexico Mine Health and Safety Conference in your thoughts, the success of the conference is dependent on Planning, Attendance and Financial support from great organizations. Every donation is greatly appreciated to insure we continue this Southwest Conference tradition. Generous financial support from operators in New Mexico has helped to make our Conference one of the most instructive and yet affordable mine safety conferences in the nation. The Conference maintains its 501(c) (3) status with the IRS so contributions are fully tax deductible. For eleven years, we have been blessed with the financial support from great operators in the New Mexico mining / construction / vendor communities. We encourage all operators to join us and contribute to making our industries a much safer place. We sincerely hope that you or your organization can contribute this year. For your convenience, we have attached a Contributor's Reference that you may use to help determine the best way that you might assist us in educating the State's Supervisors /miners / workers throughout the year, and insure everyone will not "GAMBLE WITH YOUR SAFETY"

WANTED: To continue this great process we are looking for driven and enthusiastic individuals from your organizations or throughout the N.M. mining/ construction community to serve on the planning committee. If you are interested or know of anyone with these great qualities please get in contact with me, we are always looking for new members with great ideas.

The Conference Committee is also asking your organizations to nominate an individual from your organization who has demonstrated outstanding safety leadership within your organization or community for the fourth annual Outstanding Contribution to Safety award. You can find detailed information as well as nomination forms at www.bmi.state.nm.us look under "Conference".

Thank you for your generous support.
